

AT GENEVA AROUSE SUSPICION

League Assembly At Sea, As To Selfish Ends Of Japan.

Geneva, Nov. 20.—An international military force, with an international staff, was proposed to the assembly of the League of Nations today by Senator Henri La Fontaine, of the Belgian delegation.

Senator La Fontaine had somewhat startled the assembly by declaring that the world was not yet ready for disarmament.

He proposed that the armaments and armies be composed in an international force with an international staff, ready to be used "in the cause of right" in such a case as arose from the present situation of Armenia.

Geneva, Nov. 20.—The first formal step looking toward the revision of the covenant of the League of Nations was taken by the assembly of the League at today's session. The Dutch minister of foreign affairs, H. J. Van Karsbeek, introduced a resolution for reconsideration of Article XVII having to do with the registration of treaties.

(By H. N. Blekey.)

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 20.—The Japanese came to this first session of the League of Nations Assembly with the evident idea of creating a great impression. They have succeeded, but not in the way that they hoped.

The impression created is that, of all the delegations, the Japanese seems to be under the most general suspicion as to its motive. This is not because of any action taken up to now, but because of the quite general fear that the Japs are prepared to answer very embarrassing questions which might cause discussion in the Assembly before the Assembly is old enough to absorb any sort of shock.

Exactly what the Japanese are up to now the best-informed students of Japanese diplomatic policy are unable to figure out. But all are agreed that their attempt to take and hold the center of the stage at Geneva is part of a carefully devised plan, by the Japanese, to accomplish some selfish purpose.

The Japs Storm Geneva.

It is estimated that the Japanese have two or three times as many people here as has any other nation. In addition to the three delegates who sit in the assembly they have scores of minor officials and newspaper correspondents from every section of Japan. Of course every one of the latter is under direct influence of this government and part of the general Japanese plan, whatever it may be.

Japanese from everywhere, in fact, have quite taken possession of the city.

Besides the hotel which they finally occupy as their headquarters, every other hotel accommodates a number of them.

Every building that houses a Japanese displays a Japanese flag, always the biggest flag on the building.

Automobiles under Japanese charter for the duration of the conference each one flying at least one Japanese flag, fairly block traffic at congested points.

One can not walk a block or step into a cafe without meeting one or a group of correctly dressed sphinx-like little brown men who have come half way around the world for some purpose which obviously cannot be explained by their desire to further world peace.

At least, if this is their only purpose, no one here gives them credit.

Readers What They're Up To.

One explanation is that their admission to the League of Nations on an equality with the white races has gone to their heads and affected them in the same way that newly gotten riches often affects the white race.

Another is that by this great display they hope to impress all the other Asiatic peoples with their intention to dominate the Far East.

A more widely held view is that the Japanese are determined that nothing shall be done by the assembly to force Shantung back to China, and that in this question is raised in the Assembly, rather than have any action taken, they will try to break up the show by introducing the explosive subject of race equality.

It is possible, but not likely, that the Japanese are prepared to initiate the subject of race equality if they get the chance, whether or not the Shantung question comes up.

In contrast with the attitude of the Japanese, the attitude of the Chinese is increasing. The latter are as modest and unassuming as the former were bold and arrogant. The Chinese delegates and attaches have earned everybody's respect. Their chief is Wellington Koo, many years Chinese minister at Washington and a man of great ability.

Honor To Koo Eclipses Chinese. Koo's election as vice chairman of Committee Number One of the Assembly, which is to deal with many highly important matters, was a great compliment to him and to the Chinese people.

It is significant that no Japanese was elected either chairman or vice chairman of one of the six committees. Each of the other three of the four great powers and three of the small powers got a chairmanship.

Count Ishii, a Japanese, got one vote for chairman of one of the committees. When the Chinese newspaper men heard of Koo's election and Ishii's own vote they were wild with joy. They declared that Ishii voted for himself and that when they explained this to China the whole nation would give Ishii the laugh.

League Assembly Warned.

Geneva, Nov. 30.—Although the United States is not represented by a delegate in the assembly of the League of Nations, there is hardly a session in which the United States is not referred to in some manner. The United States today had a volunteer spokesman on the speakers' stand in Newton W. Rowell, of the Canadian delegation, who warned the assembly against any policy involving interference in the internal affairs of any country.

"Canada," said Mr. Rowell, "will never consent to any such interference. You can not expect the great country to the south of Canada to become a party to the league if there is any pretension that the league can interfere in its internal affairs." Mr. Rowell was replying to a remark by Senator La Fontaine, of Belgium, that no country should have the right to monopolize the raw materials it produces.

LODGE HAS PRAISE FOR HARDING POLICY

Voces View That U. S. Can Be Made Strong Force For Peace Interests.

Boston, Nov. 20.—With President Wilson's League of Nations dead so far as the United States is concerned, by the verdict of the great tribunal of his people, it is for the administration of President Harding and his supporters in the House and Senate to bring about some arrangement with other nations for the promotion of the world's peace without incurring dangers to our independence and our constitutional system of government, said Senator Lodge in a speech before the Roosevelt Club here tonight.

"The responsibility is very great," he continued, "but we do not shrink from it."

He said the American people, while as earnest in advancing the cause of peace as any in the world, had shown by their votes that they could best serve the cause by remaining masters of their own fate.

Senator Lodge, who is chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, prefaced his remarks on the League by saying that he was speaking merely as a Republican basing his opinions entirely on the declarations of the party and the policies "so well and clearly outlined by the party's candidate Senator Harding in his campaign speeches."

"The Republican party in its platform," he continued, "declared its policy to be the establishment of an arrangement or agreement with foreign powers for the promotion of the world's peace. They condemned the covenant of the league brought from Paris by Mr. Wilson and approved the action of the Senate in opposing it. Mr. Cox declared that he was ready to go into the league formed by Mr. Wilson and submitted by him to the Senate. Senator Harding declared that he was opposed to going into that league. His issue was as plain as any issue could be and the people by a majority in the neighborhood of seven millions, approved the attitude and the action of Mr. Harding and the Republican party."

GREEKS TO VOTE UPON KINGSHIP

BALLOTS TO DECIDE WHETHER CONSTANTINE RETURNS TO THRONE.

Paris, Nov. 20.—Former King Constantine of Greece and the royal family have been formally invited to return to Greece by Premier Rallis, successor to Venizelos, the French Foreign Office announced tonight.

The invitation is interpreted as meaning Constantine will soon resume the throne. The Greek Chamber of Deputies will meet Thursday to decide the question of restoration.

Athens, Nov. 20.—The Greek people will vote November 28 on the question of the return of ex-king Constantine to the throne. The cabinet has decided for a plebiscite on this question on the date named.

Constantine has cabled to the government that he will await the result of the plebiscite before returning to Greece.

POPULAR FEVER DYING

Athens, Nov. 20.—Enthusiasm over the prospective return of former King Constantine seemed to be dying down in Athens today, altho the topic of the dynasty is virtually the only one on the tongues of the people and dealt with by the press. The capital this evening presented a gloomy picture. Rain was falling and the silence of the street crowds seemed to indicate a sobering down of the popular fervor with the propagandists for Constantine unable, temporarily at least, to revive the fires of enthusiasm.

Meanwhile, news is being awaited as to the attitude of the French and British governments and also as to the reports that the ex-ruler will attempt to reach Greece and present to the allies the accomplished fact of his restoration.

This morning French Minister M. de Billy, when calling upon Premier Rallis, saw in the reception room a huge, newly hung portrait of Constantine in the uniform of a field marshal. M. de Billy told the premier sharply that it was a mistake to believe the allies would permit the return of the former king.

The results of the election have not yet been officially announced. It is predicted in some political quarters that any chance for a Venizelist majority will be nullified by a decision not to count the votes cast in Thracian and also those of the army.

Queen Mother Olga has issued a message to the people announcing that she was assuming the regency "in the absence of my well-beloved son, Constantine."

BIG 4 ENGINEER OUT WITH FACTS

SAYS TANLAC SOON BROUGHT BACK HIS OLD TIME HEALTH AND ENERGY—FEELS FINE NOW.

New Orleans to Panama, where the first stage in Mr. Harding's vacation trip will be reached.

Except for the light rain and moderate wind which practically always is expected in the neighborhood of the Yucatan Channel fair weather favored the distinguished passenger and he spent most of the day on deck walking, reading and playing ship games.

Mrs. Harding remained in her stateroom during today on advice of her physician. It was explained she was not ill, and that her appetite continued good, she was just in need of rest after the excitement of the campaign, the trying Texas experiences and the almost overwhelming welcome accorded the party in New Orleans.

Prominent department officials, conductors, engineers, office clerks and, in fact, men representing practically every branch of the service, have reported that they have used Tanlac with the most surprising and gratifying results.

One of the latest to testify is E. H. Bowley, Eighth and Elbowe Apartments, in Prince Hill, Cincinnati. Mr. Bowley has been in the service of the Big Four railroad as engineer for forty years and has been on his present run—pulling passengers between Cincinnati and Chicago for the past twelve years. He is also a Commandary Mason and an active member of the Knights of Pythias, and is popular with all who know him. Mr. Bowley, in relating his experience with Tanlac, said:

"I never thought of letting my name be used in connection with a medicine, but Tanlac has helped me and I consider it well worth recommending to anyone suffering from stomach trouble and a run-down condition.

"For some time past my appetite has been very poor and I have suffered a great deal from indigestion. I was in a badly run-down condition and had that tired feeling all the time."

"Well, what I needed was just an all-round building up and Tanlac has done that very thing. My appetite is so keen that I can hardly eat enough to satisfy me and I can eat what I want without feeling a touch of indigestion. I no longer have that tired, worn out feeling and am enjoying my usual good health and energy. I have found Tanlac unusually fine and am glad to give it my hearty endorsement."

Tanlac is sold in Hartford by Dr. L. B. Bean; in Beaver Dam by R. T. Taylor, Jr.; and in McHenry by S. J. Tichenor.—Advertisement.

HARDING SHIP HITS TROPICAL WEATHER

On board Steamship Parlimina, Nov. 20.—Sailing thru a quiet sea the steamer Parlimina with President-elect Warren G. Harding and his party aboard tonight approached the half-way mark in her voyage from Germany. The sugar equalization board, which had power to act until December 31 of this year is thus abolished. The need for licenses for the importation, manufacture, storage and distribution of sugar is also removed and all persons engaged in the handling of sugar may now carry on their business as they wish.

Was Very Weak

"After the birth of my baby I had a back-set," writes Mrs. Matile Crosswhite, of Glade Spring, Va. "I was very ill; thought I was going to die. I was so weak I couldn't raise my head to get a drink of water. I took . . . medicine, yet I didn't get any better. I was constipated and very weak, getting worse and worse. I seen for Cardui."

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I found after one bottle of Cardui I was improving," adds Mrs. Crosswhite. "She bottles of Cardui and . . . I was cured, yes, I can say they were a God-send to me. I believe I would have died, had it not been for Cardui." Cardui has been found beneficial in many thousands of other cases of womanly troubles. If you feel the need of a good, strengthening tonic, why not try Cardui? It may be just what you need.

JAPANESE RESENT ALIEN LAND LAW

Engage Best Legal Talent And Promise Fight To Last Ditch.

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—The people of California, having by overwhelming majority directed the Legislature to pass a more rigid anti-alien land law to prevent encroachments of Japanese, are now preparing to withstand a determined attempt at nullification thru the supreme courts of the state and nation.

Scarcely had the returns been counted before various Japanese organizations announced their intention of starting court action to test the legality of the new law.

Meetings are scheduled by the Japanese Exclusion League with members of California's congressional delegation. Immediately following this gathering the executive committee of the Japanese Association of America will meet here, representing 300,000 Japanese in the West.

At this latter meeting a definite program of action will be laid. The Japanese will not only attempt to "test them" the effectiveness of the new law limiting Japanese land occupancy in California to those now on the land, but from now on will wage a determined campaign in Washington for the passage of favorable national legislation.

Fighting the Japanese at every turn, the Exclusion League, thru their leader, Senator James D. Phelan, will introduce legislation at Washington placing Japanese definitely within the "barred zone" now excluding all other Asiatics.

John P. Irish, of Oakland, foremost white champion of the Japanese cause, has announced that as soon as the law has been proclaimed by the secretary of state, he will lease some of his property near Stockton to a Japanese and have the lease recorded. This will be the beginning of an action to test the legality of the law.

Provisions Of Treaty Involved

Other cases will be thrown into court immediately by other Japanese organizations of America. It is reported that a huge amount of money has been raised by the Japanese and that the highest legal talent in the nation will be employed.

The case of H. Sunmida, brought by the attorney general of California in the Alameda County Courts, to test the 1913 law, will be fought thru the highest courts. Until these two cases have been decided no action will be taken directly against the initiative law.

Another action is to be started immediately by the New World, a Japanese language newspaper published here, for an injunction to prevent the application of the new law on the grounds that it does not mention the Japanese.

The fight will be around the two phrases, "aliens who are eligible to citizenship" and "aliens who are not eligible to citizenship," it being conceded that the phrases are vague and indefinable.

The New World has sent out an appeal to every Japanese to stand ready to assist in the "valiant battle in a righteous way."

The association will not await the result of the conference now underway in Washington between Secretary of State Colby and Ambassador Shidohara, but will proceed irrespective of any action taken by these officials.

Resentment against the proposed action of the Japanese is expressed by State Controller John S. Chambers, who says:

"The controversy in California has been carried on to date with remarkable restraint. If, however, the Japanese, who call themselves a proud race, shall impudently seek to overthrow the will of the electors of the sovereign state of California, then bitterness will develop, and on their own heads must rest the responsibility for the result."

HOG ISLAND PLANT BIDS LOW

The Thanksgiving.

By Eugene C. Olson.
Work of the harvest ended,
Now, as the year grows old,
Granaries overflowing,
Full as the bins can hold.

Peace and plenty surround us—
Each has a bounteous share;
Thanks to the fertile farmlands,
Opulence everywhere.

Thanks to the sturdy toiler,
Answering duty's call;
Thanks to the gracious Oliver, Infinite Lord of all.

Brothers, once more united,
Brothers from far away,
Each of us yet remembers
This—our Thanksgiving Day! (© 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

WITH THE DAY'S WORK DONE

Thanksgiving Day May Be Likened to the Beginning of a Long and Pleasant Evening.

As each Thanksgiving day approaches it becomes more and more apparent to those who are in the habit of meditating upon affairs in general that the spirit of the occasion is one to inspire individual sensation, and that expression of that sensation fails short of the mark.

There is in the Thanksgiving season a sort of benign pause to the energies of the year, a subconsciousness of filled granaries and of hay, packed in the barn loft, the cattle crunching in the stalls, and the drapery of the trees laid by for the approaching winter. It is the twilight of the year; the chores are done and the men folks come stamping at the doorstep. The dinner is steaming on the table and soon, the food eaten, we will settle down for the long evening.

It has been a big day. The men folks have finished a mighty harvest in Europe and come home. We give thanks for those that come home because they are the living symbols of the nation's courage; and for those that will not come again save in the spirit, for they have been transfigured in the flame of the great conflict.

And there will be our thanks for the stout hearts of American mothers who bore in silence and fortitude the burdens of their agonies; for these are the symbols of the nation's devotion to pure ideals.

HIS THANKSGIVING WISH

Boy—Jenny, I'd like to be round dead wid dat whole turkey in me stumblin' au' dat bill o' fare for a tombstone!

Thanksgiving Time.

When brimming barns reward the work-filled year,
When fuel-piles and bins bring indoor cheer,
When life and health have clung to those we love,
The normal human heart will look above
And thank a blessed Source for what He sends

In basket, store and intercourse with friends.

When through another year our nation's soul
Has triumphed, though the war-waves madly roll;

When in our lives still live the patriotic fire,
To fan the which each loyal heart implores;

When we all unashamed can face the world
And Stars and Stripes unblemished are unfurled—

Then and then always shall we deem it meet
To send aloft a prayer as incense sweet
For grateful hearts to feel and tongues to say Feelings and words that fit Thanksgiving Day.

Sing on! God's goodness never can be told—

"The good die young," for good cannot grow old!

HAS BEEN CHANGE

Oldtimer Talks of Past Thanksgiving Days.

Thinks Religious Character of Celebration Not So Generally Dwelt On as It Was—Grandma's Pies.

"Thanksgiving weather may be the same as it always has been," said the gray-haired, young-looking man. "My own recollection is that I used to go skating almost every year on that day, but the weather bureau insists that the climate has not changed and I don't dispute the point."

"But one thing I'm sure of—Thanksgiving day is not generally celebrated now as it used to be when I was a boy. For one thing, I don't believe many people have family prayers on that day, or any other, for that matter, but 50 years ago it was a very irreligious family indeed who did not hold a special Thanksgiving service of that kind.

Like Grandma Used to Make.

"Thanksgiving meals were things to remember. Those were the 'good old days' when doughnuts were made as big as bricks, and 'twas not thought necessary to eat as many as six,' but the doughnut came between meals, and on Thanksgiving day they were not greatly in demand.

"For breakfast we always had chicken with many 'fixins' and pancakes and sweet cider for dessert. It was a meal for all day, but not long after noon we all gathered for the feast, and it was a small family that did not muster at least twenty strong. We all went home to grandpa's, the last one of us. Commonly every living member of four generations would be together for that day, no matter how scattered their homes might be.

"After dinner there'd be enough outdoor sport to raise an appetite for six o'clock supper, and after supper indoor games among the young people till bedtime, but even the oldest were dragged into the games until they were tired out.

"There may be families that keep up the old customs even yet, but I wouldn't know where to look for them. Even if I did, I don't suppose I'd be able to get any of the wine and pumpkin pies. And if I should get any of them they wouldn't be such as grandmas used to make."

THANKSGIVING AT ITS BEST

City Boys and Girls Don't Make as Much of the Day as Do Their Country Cousins.

The joys of Thanksgiving are not partaken in the fullness thereof by many city boys and girls. They simply know that it is a holiday, when the pleasures and trials of school life are temporarily laid aside, when churches are open for those who want to return devout thanks for the manifold blessings with which they may have been showered, and when the lairds fairly groan with uncommon delicacies.

It is in the country that the manifold blessings of Thanksgiving day reach their full fruition. It is not a mere episode there, as it is in the city, but an event that is anxiously looked forward to for weeks before it dawns. In its celebration it differs from the ways of the city as widely as does day from night. In the thickly populated towns the religious aspect of the holiday has been lost sight of to a great extent, and in its place there has grown up the habit of feasting and making merry. It is a time for family gatherings, for balls, for football, for theatricals and the thousand and one pleasures city life is beset with.

Count Your Blessings.
The last Thursday in November will not mean much to you, unless you have got in the way of counting up your blessings.

SEIZE FIVE STILLS IN APARTMENT HOUSE

Youngstown, Nov. 20.—Five stills were found in a four-story apartment house at 1950 Marble Street, here, by Safety Director David Scott and Deputy Sheriff Smith.

Three of the stills were being operated in full blast when the raid was made. The officials seized the stills together with about 500 gallons of raisin mash and about four gallons of raisin jack.

This alleged illicit distillery was the largest one found, so far, in Mahoning County since national prohibition became effective.

Accused of operating a still, Felix Wozniak, 22, was arrested. Besides the stills and mash three gas ranges were confiscated.

The stills are made of the best grade of copper, are of large capacity and modern type.

The officials discovered a secret passageway evidently intended for use in emergency cases, affording a hiding place in the cellar for illegal goods.

COLOR-BLINDNESS

No fewer than fifty-five persons in every thousand are more or less color-blind. The commonest form is not, as many suppose, inability to distinguish red and green—that affects one person in fifty-five. The most usual symptom is uncertainty between blue and green. This is experienced by one out of every forty-six persons but only one in sixty is totally unable to do so at all.

There is the case of a lady who could not distinguish between brown and green.

Color-blindness is more common among educated than uneducated people, and an odd fact is that musicians are more liable to this affliction than those of any other class or profession.

Another curious fact about color-blindness which is not generally known is that some of those afflicted with this trouble can distinguish colors perfectly at close range, although without any other trace of color-blindness, discovered while in a field of poppies, that beyond a range of thirty yards the scarlet flowers and the greenery merged into a neutral tint and were lost.

The stills are made of the best grade of copper, are of large capacity and modern type.

The officials discovered a secret passageway evidently intended for use in emergency cases, affording a hiding place in the cellar for illegal goods.

TELEPHONES

Farmers Mutual 59
Cumberland 123

FRIDAY NOVEMBER 26

It was the other way round yesterday, both the Christian and the un-Christian joined in a slaughter of the "Turks."

A mass meeting for the farmers of Ohio county is projected for Saturday, tomorrow, afternoon at 1 o'clock, at this place. The object is to bring as many of the farmers as possible into the Farm Bureau, which as we understand federates with other organizations of the agricultural classes.

There can be no doubt of the fact that farmers should organize, as intelligent organization is good for the farmers in a thousand different ways.

By unanimous, or collective action much may be accomplished, not alone, or so much, by securing fair prices merely, but by community action and co-operation, exchange of ideas, comparing results and in fact, by ways almost innumerable.

Farmers should take advantage of the opportunity offered, not only of this, but every other one. Then too, an institute of two days duration is scheduled for Ohio county, at Hartford, on the 10th and 11th of next month, which is primarily for the farmers' benefit, his uplift and advancement.

No progressive farmer who can attend without unreasonable sacrifice is necessary, should be absent from this institute. Only the non-progressive and stand-still, or retrograding farmer will for a moment claim that these meetings are not worth while. Let everyone who can possibly do so arrange to be on hands and get a bit of all the good that otherwise must go to waste.

Thanksgiving, like Christmas day, according to our manner of thought, is not observed exactly as the day should be, nor as was intended we should. The occasion is one of the most generally observed as a holiday, but comparatively few people perhaps, really make of it a day for offering thanks to the Ruler of providence, or the King of the Universe, for bounteous crops, success in life and business, or that it is as well with them as it is, or perchance we should return our thanks that it is no worse with us than it is. We do not forget to observe the date by taking it as a holiday from our labors, and, instead of in any way centering our thoughts upon Deity in a truly thankful spirit, the great majority are rather prone to make of it a day for riotous eating and drinking. At least the latter was once the course.

Bowls of egg-nog, mint juleps, Tom and Jerry and various other tempting liquids were freely indulged in, but as a matter of course this nearly bone-dry, Volstead system has practically eliminated the nogs etc., from the day's doings, and aside from the enforced abstinence, the day yesterday, was spent in about the usual and customary manner—those who were not compelled to follow their usual avocations, that is, all but comparatively few, wound up at night in a rather gorged condition and never,

for once, seriously thought of being thankful to any agency for any possession, either individually or collectively. It is true that special Thanksgiving services were held in many churches throughout the country yesterday, as was the case here, when a union service was conducted, but the great masses never find their way into these places of service upon the only day of the year publicly set apart for rendering our thanks for the good received during the past three-hundred and sixty-five days.

"BIG THREE" SNUBBED FOCH

In the first heart-to-heart talk Marshal Foch has given to the public since the war, he says that he was profoundly displeased with the peace treaty as framed by the allied peace conference in Paris. He believed that the military victory should have been made more complete, but when he expressed his views he was practically told by Messrs. Wilson, Clemenceau and Lloyd-George to "shut up," he declares.

FRENCH VIEWS OF ELECTION

Paris newspapers agreed that the big majority for Harding in the recent election meant the defeat of the League of Nations and the Wilson program. La Liberte said "American common sense has condemned Utopia in all its forms. From an international point of view the American election day was a bad day for socialism and the society of nations the consequences of which will be felt throughout the world." The Intransigent points out that Harding has often professed friendship for France and it thinks that he will not renunciate the traditions that bind the New World and France.

JUDGE LANDIS TO SERVE THIRTY-ONE YEARS MORE

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Judge K. M.
Landis took the joy out of life for a lot of bootleggers today when he announced that he was not going to retire from the federal bench until he is 85 years old. That will be thirty-one years from now. He was 54 today.

He celebrated his birthday by playing a round of golf.

"I'm not going to climb off the bench until I'm 85 years old," he said. "I'm afraid a lot of people around Chicago will be disappointed.
Most of my family lingered around until they were 85 or 95, and I am going to follow their example."

The judge was recently chosen head of reorganized baseball at a salary of $2,500 a year. He is now holding both jobs.

STRAY STREAKS

(By Fluke McFluke.)

We are going to chuck up our job at this joint and apply for the position of president of the rest-rooms.

It's a cinch that the descendants of Job don't possess as many turkeys today as they did this day a week ago.

I wouldn't like for Miss Porter to see this, but gee! wouldn't it be awful to be married to Alec? Yes, even by a sham ceremony.

It's a queer way about how some guys get such strange ideas. No less than a half-dozen of those birds who assumed the character of "Poor Relatives" in the Woman's Wedding at the Court house last night, came to my house to borrow clothes in which to garb themselves for the occasion.

Uncle Clem Moxley, of Fordsville, was in town Monday and he solemnly avers that he is steadily and rapidly growing better looking every day of his life, and that if he and John Henry Thomas were placed on exhibition, in contest, Thomas would occupy the position, in comparison, as a stinking, dark, foggy night to bright, noon-day's sunshine.

Since Bat Nall, by some hook or crook, induced that good woman to marry him he has been so doggedly scarce around this office that we are beginning to really like him, tho for Miss Nall's sake we hope he ain't puttin' in all the time at home he isn't about this joint.

We would be willing to wager two bits that I. D. Clark has located a worm attached to a still, and has entwined himself around the fruits of the combination—it's been too long since he's been heard from. Moths will have soon destroyed the famous quill with which he was wont to string his odd beads. Down with the still and up with the quill.

We received a communication from our old friend W. W. Harris, the telephone man, now of Mt. Carmel, Ill., a few days ago in which he specially inquired as to whether A. Rial was still putting out the same little-bitty sacks of popcorn for a nickel. Harris swears that the vendor of popcorn in his town sells sacks twice as big as Nial does for a jitney. We say down with high prices and profiteering.

At prayer meeting service at one of the local churches recently the Minister appointed a certain Sister to read a certain portion of Luke,
I think it was, and perhaps that portion comparing to the 15th chapter, but it seems that she was reading from one of those old style bibles that were not divided up by chapters, such as is commonly in use. She read and read, and then read some more, until most of those present could hardly sit still, when she finally came to the word "Hades" when a momentary hush fell. The Pastor seeing his chance threw up his hands, saying, "I think you have gone far enough Sister, stop right there." Those who didn't smile were either too sound asleep or absent.

Some Prices Are Gradually Being Lowered.
And This is What This Store is Doing to Help:

Without any great noise or publicity, and regardless of the cost to this store and the loss to it, we are giving to our patrons at once the advantages of a changing wholesale market. And this regardless of the fact that such wholesale quotations have not in the least affected the cost to us of the merchandise in our store, which, of course, was bought months prior to its sale.

This is no special sale. It is simply a reduction in the prices of merchandise affected by present wholesale conditions. For instance: You can count upon this store to continue to faithfully fulfill its promises of service, and to sacrifice, if necessary for the benefit of its patrons.

You can depend upon this store to meet its responsibility of providing the best merchandise at prices that are the lowest the market conditions warrant—lower than you will find them in a majority of cities.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

INTER-CARE OF THE GARDEN.

A very common practice in the State of Kentucky is to leave the garden perfectly bare during the winter months. The Department of Horticulture of the College of Agriculture recommends that every farmer should clean off the trash and rubbish and sow some cover crop, such as rye. It is rather late in the season for this but the old adage holds that "It is better late than never." The objection raised to doing this is that they have to store a few vegetables in a pit and usually a very common place to make this pit is in the center of the garden. So far as making a pit is concerned it would be convenient to have it in the garden; but it is far better to take it outside of the garden and sow some cover crop so that something can be plowed under in the spring and help furnish humus to the garden soil.

SOY-BEANS MAKE A GOOD CASH CROP

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 22.—With unfavorable prospects for such enormous returns from tobacco, the soybean is coming into prominence as a cash crop in Kentucky. The Agriculture Department of the College of Agriculture says that the Haberland soybean seems to be the one that is displacing all the other medium and early varieties in this state, and since there is a great demand for these Haberland beans for planting in the cornbelt states that cannot be supplied, Kentucky should produce more soybeans for seed. From the nature of her soils and seasons, Kentucky seems to be ideally located as a center for the production of soy bean seed for the corn belt states.

BROOD SOWS SHOULD BE CAREFULLY SELECTED.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 22.—The College of Agriculture recommends that considerable care should be given in selecting sows for breeding purposes. Records show that on the average sows will farrow and raise more and better pigs in the second and subsequent litter than they do the first. Since this is true it is usually a mistake to kill the mature sows that have raised good litters unless there is some good reason for discarding her.

It is well to study the individual very carefully before deciding to breed her, and when she has raised a good litter she should be further developed and retained. After the first litter of pigs are weaned the sow will make an easy and fairly rapid gain if properly fed and should continue in growth and weight right up to the time she farrows the second litter.

Considering the present price of corn even the pork has dropped in price, the average farmer will do well to produce a reasonable quantity of hogs.

SELECT AND CARE FOR YOUR SEED CORN.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 22.—In the spring of 1918 the farmers of Kentucky experienced an extreme shortage in seed corn. The College of Agriculture urges at this time that the farmers will prepare to take care of their seed corn so that they will at least bring thru the winter what they have already saved. If seed corn has already been selected in the field, it should receive good care throughout the winter in order that it will properly develop when planted next spring. Usually not more than one-half of the ears selected at first will come up to the desired standard after they have dried out. Since this is true it is necessary to save much more than will be needed for planting in order that it can be carefully selected next spring.

Many tests of two lots of seed which appears alike when gathered have shown that where one of them is promptly dried and properly kept dry during the winter, the other left in the crib, that the seed receiving good care will give considerable increase the following year. This increased yield has been brought about due to the prompt drying and better care through the winter. In one case 400 ears were divided into two equal parts; one being well taken care of and the other placed in the barn where corn is ordinarily kept. The following year the well cared for seed gave a yield on poor soil of 12 per cent more than the seed that was left out of the crib, which yielded 27 per cent on the fertile soil, notwithstanding the fact that both lots of seed germinated equally well.

It is possible to select seed corn in the fall, leave it out in the barn or crib where it will be exposed to the change of weather and have this corn germinate well the next spring; but this should not be taken as sufficient evidence that leaving the corn in the crib over winter is a good thing. There is more to good seed than simply germination, as the germ may still be alive so that it will germinate; but by poor treatment through the

MORE RICH, RED BLOOD NEEDED

Pepto-Mangan Gives You the Energy To Tackle Your Daily Work With Vigor.

If you sit at a desk all day in an office, whether you are perched on a high stool or seated in an upholstered chair, your body is inactive. You can't get much fresh air and outdoor exercise. Your blood becomes poor. You look pale and feel weak.

The great tonic, Pepto-Mangan, is what you need for awhile. It makes rich, red blood. It restores your vital energy. Your color comes back.

When your blood is good, full of red corpuscles, you are better able to resist disease. You go about your daily work with the optimism of good health.

Try Pepto-Mangan and notice how you improve.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer. Both have the same medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan "Gude's". The full name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" should be on the package.—Advertisement.

PASQUALE "THE CRANK" GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 20.—August Pascal, alias Pasquale, "the crank" in the Coughlin kidnaping case, was sentenced to life imprisonment this morning by Judge Swartz, in Norristown Court. "Pascal pleaded guilty at his trial to second degree murder and kidnaping for extortion. He stole Blakely Coughlin, the 13-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coughlin, from their home near Norristown on June 2, last, and smothered the infant under his coat. He was sentenced on the kidnaping charge and sentence was suspended on the second degree murder charge.

FOUR-LEGGED ROOSTER STRUTS IN BARNYARD

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20.—Now the four-legged rooster!

With four perfectly-shaped legs, a full-grown rooster is parading the barnyard of H. H. Burres, of Harris, Mo., according to a letter written by Burres to Superintendent of Parks W. H. Dunn, offering to sell the rooster to the Swope Park Zoo.

Dunn said the offer would be declined as the city does not desire any freak animals in the zoo.

MOTHER PUTS BABY ON RED HOT STOVE

New York, Nov. 20.—After she had been arrested accused of placing her 7-months-old boy on a red hot stove, Mrs. Grace Randell told the Brooklyn police tonight that her husband, whom she loves "better than anything else in the world," had treated her coolly since the child was born.

The child, taken from the top of a stove by police whom neighbors summoned, may die from its burns, hospital physicians said. The husband is serving a sentence in jail.

CONVICT SILENT 10 YEARS

Twenty-five years ago J. P. Hanley was committed to the Massachusetts state prison for stealing $84 worth of shoes. He made several attempts to escape and was also discovered in a counterfeiting scheme, for which his prison sentence was prolonged. Because a fellow-convict revealed to the warden a plan for escape which Hanley had communicated to him in secret, Hanley began speech-fast and has not said a word for 10 years. When he was released the other day he found that he had lost the power of speech and he could communicate only in writing.

'THEY SAID I HAD T. B. AND WOULD NOT LIVE THREE MONTHS'

Mr. Harold W. Schmidt, Box 98, Breese, Clinton Co., Ill., believes he has reason to praise Dr. Hartman's Remedy for Catarrhal conditions.

"I used Pe-ru-na eight months for Chronic Catarrh. I do not get tired, feel like a giant, am powerfully strong and able to work every day. In March, 1918, I contracted a severe cold with rattling and took to my bed. They said I had T. B. and would not live. After taking Dr. Hartman's Remedy and a box of Manna-ite Tablets, could walk around and in seven months went back to work. My troubles are all gone. After a month of taking Pe-ru-na, I started down into the bronchial tubes."

"Pe-ru-na is my life saver."

John's Thanksgiving.

By Willis Brooks.
John Eddy shamed the laggard night,
So early was his day begun,
He breakfasted by candle light,
And toiled afiel till set of sun.
Then by the glow a lantern shad
His cows were milked, his stock was fed,
And all his evening chores were done
Before he tumbled into bed.

One autumn morning, on his way,
The parson stopped and urged him so
To come to church Thanksgiving
Day.

Then John at last resolved to go.
But to the parson's deep regret,
He still denied Crenson's debt.
"What thanks?" said John, "do farmers owe
For working hard for all they get?"

In church that day John Eddy dronmed.

He saw the sun in splendor rise,
Yet from a thankless world, it seemed

No welcome went to greet the skies;
No chirping insect voice was raised;
The birds in heedless silence
gnzed;

And there, before his wondering eyes,
A morning came unsung, unpraised.

Then rolling thunder shook the land;
"Ungrateful world!" it seemed to say;
And from above a mighty hand Swept down and bore the sun away.
Too late the field and forest vied
In pleading song; in vain they cried
For one sweet hour of blessed
day,
Which timidly they glorified.

John Eddy, wakng, spoke as one Who entertained a novel thought:
"How little man himself has done!
How much for him has Nature wrought!
What lavish gifts of sun and shower
Thanksgiving comes, or come it ought,
To gratify the field and flower!
Not once a year, but every hour."

WHY GIVE THANKS

Manifold Blessings Accorded to This Nation.

Surely One Needs Only a Few Moments' Reflection to Realize the Causes for Gladness.

It is written of Plato that, "looking through the dim spectacles of nature, he gave thanks to God for three things: First, that he was created a man and not a beast. Second, that he was born a Greek and not a barbarian. Third, that he was born a possible philosopher."

If this represents the pagan ideal of gratitude, it is in marked contrast to the Christian ideal. A boastful spirit has no place in true thanksgiving to God. The Phariseo who went up to the temple to pray and thanked God that he was not as other men, was roundly rebuked by Christ for his presumption. The last place for one to display his egotism should be before the throne of God. "Whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister," said Christ. It is a time for true humility of spirit.

Now that this nation has grown rich beyond the dreams of the austere pioneers, do Americans of today recognize the source of their manifold blessings, and will they with true humility acknowledge their gratitude to the giver of all good gifts, "forgetting all his benefits?"

America is today the richest and most powerful nation of the earth, and it is this very opulence that leads the people, most liberally blessed of all, to neglect to remember the source of good. In days of opulence and power men are prone to put their trust in themselves and to underestimate those influences that have made them great.

Ingratitude has been called the most popular sin in the world, because it is the result of selfishness, or egotism or ambition or whatever the case may be. Nations, being an aggregation of individuals, in their days of power have a tendency to trust in themselves and to disregard the laws of God.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Joys to Come.

The pudding bubbled in the pot,
The turkey in the oven
Puffed up so high; the pumpkin pie
Cried out, "Hey, stop your shovin'!"
The taters in the saucepan
Danced a jig against the lid.
Cranberries popped and skipped and hopped
And sauced the rest—they did.
The kitchen tins were all agog,
The kettles all a-humming;
No wonder-boy and girl aliv
Thanksgiving dinner's coming!

Summer is gone,
Autumn is here;
This is the harvest
For all the year.
Corn in the crib, oats in the bin,
Wheat is thrashed, barley drawn in;
Apples are barreled, nuts laid to dry;
Frost in the garden, winter is nigh.
Father in Heaven, thank Thee for all.
Winter and springtime, summer and fall.

LET ALL REJOICE

Taking Courage From the Spirit of the Pilgrims.

Surely the People of Today Have More Causes for Thankfulness Than They Possessed.

To us it certainly seems as though the Pilgrims had little to be thankful for. If the settlers in Plymouth could "sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving" in 1621, what, pray, ought we to do in this year of our Lord? Think of the blessings which we enjoy as the commonplaces of the day, of which the Pilgrims never even dreamed! A vast territory mastered, surveyed and thickly settled—abundant treasures of farm, mine, forest and mill poured out for human uses—Innumerable inventions harnessed to the service of human efficiency and comfort—a great republic "conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal"—free political, educational, and religious institutions, hitherto unknown and unparalleled, successfully established—a higher grade of material well being, a wider diffusion of culture, a nobler ideal of happiness, a finer conception of democracy, achieved for all the people, than the world has ever seen before! It is true, of course, that not all the blessings have been suppressed, nor all the blessings won. But because we have not yet achieved everything is no reason why we should not be glad that we have achieved much! Because we have not yet won the goal of life is no reason why we should not rejoice that we have advanced! The world today is better than it ever has been before! Men have less suffering, greater happiness and nobler opportunity than in any epoch past. Humanity is still fighting the same persistent ills and seeking the same illusive goods, but in new fields and on higher levels. The goal still lies far ahead, but the hind is a long road of miseries conquered and battles won.

A Thanksgiving Offering From a Grateful Heart

Lord, we who set the furrow deep,
And sow, the seeds of industry,
For the rich guerdon that we reap
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who make the anvils ring,
Who rive and weld laboriously,
For all the wage our labore bring
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who watch the spindles spin,
The shuttles flying dizzy,
For every boon our efforts buy
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who build with busy hand
Of wood or stone unceasingly,
For whatsoever our arts command
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who delve in under-earth
Far from Thy sunlight fair and free,
For whatsoever we win of worth
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who hoist the straining sail,
And plow the green' waves of the sea,
For what our stormy tasks await
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we the toilers of the brain,
Who clutch at dreams that cling or flee,
For whatsoever heights we gain
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we Thy children, small and great,
Beneath Thy care, where'er it be,
The while Thy grace we supplicate,
Give thanks to Thee!
—Clinton Scollard, in the Outlook

Therefore, Give Thanks.

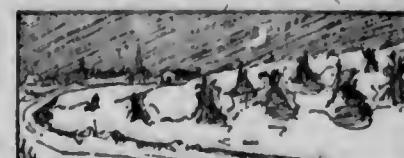

Thanks to the providence of God as it has worked in history and to the work of brave men who believed they were children of God, the petty colonies are now one nation. Of that nation the meanest citizen, the most foolish, the weakest and the poorest, has every right and privilege before the law which belongs to the strongest, the richest and the wisest, though he were born in the purple of luxury.

A GLOOMY OUTLOOK

Turkey! I'm afraid they're feeding me too well. Thanksgiving must be coming.

In the twilight of November,
With its fall of gold,
Comes again the glad Thanksgiving
Bless with customs dear and old;
And beneath the starry banner
As it floats from sea to see,
We a happy people gather,
Feast at rest, for all are free.

PEOPLE MUST HAVE TURKEY

Always Willing to Pay High Prices for the Chief Feature of Thanksgiving Dinner.

New York spends about $3,000,000 on its Thanksgiving dinner, with turkey as its chief feature. The dealers say if it cost a dollar per pound they would sell just about as many. Turkey on Thanksgiving is traditional in America, and the farmer knows it. He fattens his best birds and saves them for this day. Without realizing it the farmer thus corners the market until the price gets high enough. Then he sells. But the people will have their turkey and this year the dealers expect a greater demand than ever, although they are selecting smaller birds in order to meet it.

The great part of the city's turkey supply comes from the Middle West—Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. Maryland and Kentucky send large consignments. This year "turkey specials" are run from St. Louis. A year ago one of these trains brought 32,000 birds for the local market.

Vast numbers of turkeys are raised in Missouri and Texas. The product of the latter state, where the birds feed on sage and sunflower seeds, is highly regarded. According to reports, however, the output of both of these sections has been effectively cornered this year.

WHEN TROUBLE AIN'T

(By Caroline McCarty.)
Met ole Mistah Trouble
Comin' down de street;
He stopped t' tell me howdy
An' smile at me so sweet.

"Go long, Mistah Trouble,
Ah don' know you no' mo';
You all pestered me ernough
An' Av'e quit you sho.'

"Yo' sho' done me dirt
An' pressed me mighty hard;
But Ah don' know you any mo';
Now Uncle Sam's mah pard.

"Me an' Him's in business now,
An' doin' mighty well;
Ah am buyin' Sabin's Stamps
An' he has em to sell.

"So dat makes us partners,
Beats fo' aces sho';
An' Ah don' know you Trouble,
Don' know you any mo.'

"Any one what's partners
In Uncle Sammy's biz
Don' nebber no know trouble,
But is happy as Ah is."

YANKS WIN ANOTHER STIFF SAILING RACE

The Esperanto a schooner of Gloucester, Mass., commanded by Capt. "Marty" Welch, beat the Nova Scotian schooner Delawana in the second International series between the two rival fishermen. A cup and $4,000 were the fruits of the victory, which was attributed by Capt. Welch to a heavy wind which favored his vessel. The match, which covered a 40-mile course, was exciting up to the last. The Delawana put up a splendid fight.

In France all roads more than 33 feet wide must be lined with trees on each side.

GOVERNMENT PROFITEERING

When the postal savings act was passed two per cent was considered a just rate of interest on money deposited by the people. Now Uncle Sam invests the depositors' money in bonds bearing about five per cent, thus clearing three per cent profit. This is why the postal savings system has been able to boast a "profit" of over a million and a half dollars a year. It is the children who are hit hardest, as the grown-ups know better than to put their money in such unprofitable securities. The government has set a bad example of profiteering in various ways, and the practice ought to be stopped.

INDIAN WIFE ASKS $250 MONTH ALIMONY

Colorado Springs, Col., Nov. 20.—Naming a white girl of this city as correspondent Mrs. Odell De Noya has filed suit for divorce from Wesley De Noya, both full-blooded Osage Indians. It is believed to be the first suit of its kind in the history of Colorado courts.

The pair were married in Winfield Kan., in 1917.

In her suit Mrs. De Noya asks for $250 a month alimony, declaring that her husband's income from valuable oil lands in Oklahoma approximates $1,000 per month.

COURT CROWD SERVES AS JURY; ACQUITS MAN

Toledo, O., Nov. 20.—For the first time, it is said, in the history of local courts a Police Court Judge today passed ballots thru the court room and asked the spectators to write the verdict on the slips of paper.

Of the thirty-four ballots twenty-seven were marked "not guilty." The prisoner, on trial for alleged bribery, was declared not guilty by the judge, James Austin.

SULPHUR SPRINGS

Corn gathering is the order of the day on most farms the yield is very good but a great deal of the grain planting is very sappy and will be hard to get dried out so it will spoil.

L. T. Hays who has been on the stock list for some time is able to be out again.

Mr. Helton, of Dukehurst has bought a house and a few acres of land from W. A. Clark, of Sunnydale, and will move into same in the near future.

The new mast was raised at the oil wells Tuesday, by Holbrook and Co., preparatory to cleaning out and restringing the wells after which Mr. Holbrook thinks he can produce oil in paying quantity.

Mr. Thomas Johnson, living on the farm of W. E. Baker, lost his house and almost all of his household goods by fire Wednesday morning. Mrs. Johnson being alone with a sick baby when the fire was discovered it gained good headway and very few of their household goods were saved. It was a total loss as there was no insurance.

DUKEHURST

Mr. Smith Payne made a business trip to Calhoun last week.

Mrs. Florence Allen and Miss Maggie Allen, of Hartford, visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Alma Baugh is spending the week with relatives at Adaburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosal Park are the parents of a little daughter, born November 15th.

Mr. G. P. Jones and daughter, Miss Jessie, of Washington, Mr. Fred Patterson and family, of Horton attended church at Concord Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Thomas, of Harton, spent Sunday with their parents here.

Mr. Charlie Whobrey of McHenry, was here Monday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Coombs went to Owensboro this week, where Mrs. Coombs will take treatment from a specialist.

Miss Nina Cornell spent from Sunday until Tuesday with friends in Mertontown and Hartford.

Mr. Romney Helton and family moved to Sunnydale yesterday.

LOUISVILLE MARKETS

Quotations were called $1.25 a hundredweight lower all thru the list at the Bourbon Stock Yards. The "swamp" took the price of best hogs, all weights, to $10.00, the lowest here in nearly four years and a decline of $13 a hundredweight from the high level touched last July.

General unsettlement in all livestock markets and lower quotations on feed grains and other commodities are given as the reasons for the continued losses in hog values. The undertone in the local market yesterday was weak and a further decline was considered not improbable. Receipts were 2,500 head.

Quotations: Best hogs 120 lbs. up $10.00; pigs 90 to 120 lbs., $9.50; 90 pounds down $8.00; throwouts $5.00 down.

Cattle at Low Level.

The cattle market continued to drop at the lowest level of the season. Market summary: Limited trade in butcher stock of all kinds. Canners and cutters slow; strong weight canners $3.00@3.25 down to $2.00@2.50 for lighter kinds. No change in bull values. Milk cow trade slow and uneven. Light inquiry from all sources for feeders and stockers of all descriptions; common trashy stockers badly neglected at the lowest prices this year. Weak trade in heavy steers and buyers backward about taking hold at sharp declines compared to a week ago.

Quotations: Prime heavy steers $9.00@10.00; heavy shipping steers $8.00@9.00; medium steers $7.00@8.00; light steers $5.50@7.00; fat heifers $5.00@8.25; fat cows $5.00@7.00; medium cows $4.00@5.00; cutters $3.25@4.00; canners $2.25@3.25; bulls $4.00@5.75; feeders $5.50@9.00; stockers $3.50@6.50; choice milk cows $85.00@100.00; medium $60.00@55.00; common $40@60.

Calves were unchanged in price. Receipts were 89 head. Market: Best veals $11.50@12.00; medium $6.00@9.00; common $4.00@5.00.

Sheep and Lambs Decline.

Sheep and lambs were in light demand and prices were materially lower. Receipts were 79 head. Market: Best sheep $3.00; bucks $2.00 down; best lambs $9.00; seconds $4.50@5.00.

Poultry.

Local produce dealers quote buying prices as follows, net to shipper, the shipper paying freight and drayage charges.

Butter—Country 27c pound.

Poultry—Hens 23@24c lb.; large spring chickens 23@27c lb.; small 26@30c lb.; old roosters 13@14c lb.; young ducks 22c lb.; No. 1 turkeys 35@37c lb.; geese 18c lb.; guineas 30c each; young guineas 50c.

Rabbits—$3.25@3.50 dozen.

BEER MAKERS FACE CLOSING BREWERIES

Washington, Nov. 20.—In announcing seizure of the Herancourt and Jackson brewing companies, of Cincinnati, O., charged with brewing beer of more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol today, internal revenue officials declared that all breweries found guilty of making beer of more than legal alcoholic content will be closed immediately.

It was pointed out that the officers and directors of the Herancourt and Jackson companies, if found guilty, are subject to a maximum fine of $1,000 or six months' imprisonment. The bureau is awaiting a detailed report from Supervising Agent T. E. Stone on the reported violations.

Officials said that analysis of beer brewed in a number of places is now being made, owing to repeated violations of the law.
